* EUR 45.54 / share (DPLTA price) x 16.4m shares outstanding
Planned sale and repurchase of treasury shares to avoid automatic dilution

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Background</th>
<th>– Under Austrian law, treasury shares do not receive subscription rights in a rights issue</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
| Considerations | – As the company does not receive any rights for the treasury shares, the company’s holdings automatically would become diluted in the context of a rights issue
  – Subscription rights for the around 12.86 million treasury shares (end of Q2 2023) could amount to a double-digit million EUR value, subject to final conditions of the right issue |
| Approach | – To avoid the automatic dilution the company plans to sell all treasury shares to the market before the expected rights issue
  – In order to cover respective long-term incentive obligations ams OSRAM intends, after the successful completion of the right issue, to launch a public share buy back program to repurchase shares at market price to meet its outstanding obligations under long-term incentive programs
  – Legal requirements with regards to maximal trading volume etc. will be strictly observed
  – Decisions on the intended public share buy back program will be taken in due time |
| Step plan | 1. Sale of treasury shares: Before rights issue
  2. Rights trading period
  3. Settlement of rights issues
  4. Planned start of public share buy back program after completion of rights issue, subject to separate decision |

Intelligence to light and passion to innovation for Automotive, Industrial, Medical and select Consumer application areas

We continuously advance our technologies in sensing, illumination and visualization to make the world safer, simpler and more efficient.
Focus on profitability and on monetizing innovation, benefitting from structural growth and our strong position in our key markets

Strategy & business outlook reassessed by new management team

Key challenges of previous business model

- Strong focus on disruptive, custom technologies for high volume opportunities in the Consumer device arena is risky when it comes to industrialization, execution and market adoption
- ‘Home-made’ execution issues, partly due to unclear ownership in current matrix organization
- Uptake of new markets or adoption of new, disruptive technologies have not always happened as quickly as planned
- De-prioritization of some structural growth opportunities in sticky core markets such as Automotive, Industrial and Medical
- High sensitivity to macro-economic shocks such as pandemic and geopolitical crises

Adjusted business model

- Focus semiconductor portfolio on differentiated, intelligent sensors and emitter components
- Expand leading positions in relevant Automotive, Industrial, Medical markets with strengthened investments into structural growth opportunities
- Exit non-core semiconductor businesses with revenue run-rate of EUR 300 – 400 million
- Continue to pursue specific opportunities in Consumer markets where we sustainably differentiate
- Invest selectively in disruptive innovation such as microLED technology
- ‘Re-establish the Base’ program adjusting semiconductor portfolio, company over-head, infrastructure and organization to new adjusted business model
- Streamline organizational set-up within Semiconductor segment by going from 3 to 2 Business Units with full end-to-end ownership & responsibility
- Portfolio streamlining and efficiency measures target savings of EUR 150 million by end-of-2025 and improving Cash Flow of the Group

Laying the foundation for 6 – 10% revenue CAGR from new base and ~15% adj. EBIT by 2026
Benefitting from structural growth and strong position

Growing from the core of sensor & emitter components by increasingly adding intelligence to drive system performance
